Focused Information

Online information providers are developing their own information niches resulting in a host of sources who are proficient in areas that their competitors are not, leaving the information researcher with the burden of having to use more and more sources to compile reports which are relevant and can be relied upon. Online information providers are also becoming less focused on the requirements of individual groups such as the Accountancy Profession.

The RM Group recognises the need for tailored information solutions and has developed a range of products, using its expertise and knowledge of data sources, which are specifically designed to cater for a variety of professional disciplines. For example RM's INSOLVENCY PRACTITIONERS REPORT and THE DUE DILIGENCE REPORT are compiled using information from up to 5 different sources including Companies House resulting in a report which provides more in-depth information about companies and their officers than could be easily gleaned from any one single source.
